

What to watch when you're not at Spezia!

When you're not chilling at Spezia Bistro with a plate of Garlic Knots or sipping on that perfect Jamuntini, we know the vibe you're chasing: food + fun + some couch time. So, here's a handpicked list of must-watch shows and movies all about the restaurant life. Trust us, they're as binge-worthy as your favorite dessert!

Your weekend just got tastier!

The Bear

Disney+ hotstar

Ever wondered what happens in a kitchen when the heat is real? This chaotic yet heartwarming show about a chef trying to save his family's sandwich shop is raw, intense, and oh-so-addictive.

Chef

NETFLIX

Warning: This one will have you dreaming of food trucks and drooling over Cuban sandwiches. A feel-good movie about reigniting your passion for food (and life) while making people smile with every bite.

Burnt

prime video

Imagine Bradley Cooper, but he's a chef aiming for Michelin stars.

- ☒ Drama?
- ☒ Stunning dishes?
- ☒ Serious kitchen vibes?

Ratatouille

Disney+ hotstar

Because who doesn't love the idea of a rat who can cook? This Pixar gem is a celebration of creativity, dreams, and food that'll make you smile (and crave ratatouille, obviously).

Julie & Julia

prime video

Two women, two timelines, one love for food. Watch Julia Child's journey to becoming a culinary icon while a modern-day blogger tries every recipe in her cookbook. It's charming, delicious, and makes you want to bake something.

Oh, and speaking of cravings—why not drop by Spezia this week?

We promise a menu worth the hype (and no kitchen drama 😊).

See you at Spezia, or maybe on your Insta story

Dinner Rush

NETFLIX

Think of it as a behind-the-scenes look at a single night in a buzzing NYC restaurant. Drama unfolds at every table, and you can't look away!

Our X'mas
